"He is Risen!" Easter Crown Craft

Perfect for Sunday School, Preschool, or Home!

Supplies Needed:

- White Cardstock or Sentence Strips: For the headband base.
- Black Construction Paper: For the hill and crosses.
- Tissue Paper Squares: Yellow, orange, and red (for the sunrise).
- White Paper Plate: Cut in half to create the background arch.
- Glue Stick & Scissors.
- Markers: To write the message.
- Stapler or Tape: To secure the headband.

Step-by-Step Instructions:

1. Prepare the Background

- Cut a white paper plate in half.
- Apply glue across the entire curved surface of the plate half.
- Layer the yellow, orange, and red tissue paper squares to create a vibrant "sunrise" effect. Don't worry if they hang off the edges; you can trim them later!

2. Create the Calvary Scene

- Cut a "hill" shape from black construction paper that matches the width of your paper plate.
- Cut out three crosses (one slightly larger for the center).
- Glue the crosses onto the black hill, then glue the entire hill onto the bottom of your tissue-paper sunrise.

3. Prepare the Headband

- Take a long strip of cardstock (or a classroom sentence strip).
- In the center of the strip, write "He is Risen!" in bold markers.

  Tip: Use primary lined paper or a sentence strip to help younger kids practice their handwriting!

4. Assemble the Crown

- Apply glue to the back-bottom edge of your paper plate sunrise.
- Press it firmly onto the center of the headband, right above the "He is Risen!" text.

5. Fit and Secure

- Measure the strip around the child's head.
- Staple or tape the ends together to complete the crown.
